SUMMARY OF REPORTS

Barnard, of Lakewood, N. J., read a paper at the residence of Mrs. A. H. Borden, Shrewsbury, relating to the part taken by Col. Ramsey in the battle of Monmouth; Mrs. Theodosia D. Finch also read a paper at the same meeting entitled "The North American Phalanx."

The regular course of 1904 began with a meeting in May at the house of John S. Applegate, Red Bank, where Major Charles B. Parsons read a paper entitled "The Bay Boatmen"; at the June meeting held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Strother Jones, Riverside Drive, opposite Red Bank, John S. Applegate read a paper on "The Beginnings of Monmouth County"; the July meeting was held at the house of Mrs. William W. Shippen, Seabright, where Hon. Francis B. Lee, of Trenton, N. J., spoke on the subject of "Slavery and its Relation to the Quakers"; Hon. Asa Bird Gardiner, LL. D., L. H. D., President of the Rhode Island Cincinnati, addressed the August meeting at the residence of the President at Redemont on the "Cincinnati in France," and exhibited the badge of the order which was owned and worn by General George Washington; in September at a meeting held at All Saints' Rectory, Navesink, with the Rev. and Mrs. John C. Lord, a paper was read by Miss Harriet Whitlock Bray, entitled "A Box of Old Bills"; the October meeting held at Mrs. John H. Patterson's on Riverside Drive in Middletown Township, opposite Red Bank, Russel G. Andrew, M. D., of Navesink, N. J., closed the year with a paper on "John Bowne, a First Settler of Monmouth, and Dr. John Lawrence, a Medical Practitioner of Monmouth County Prior to the Revolution." These lectures were all well attended by the members and their guests.

Recent additions to the Library are an old newspaper entitled "Jersey Chronicle," being No. 33, Vol. 1 of a paper edited and published by Philip Freneau at Mount Pleasant, Monmouth County, bearing date December 12, 1795, donated to the Society by the courtesy of Mrs. J. H. Snyder, of Asbury Park; a book entitled "The Baptists in America, a Narrative of the Deputation from the Baptist Union in England to the United States and Canada," by the Rev. F. A. Cox, D. D., LL. D., and Rev. J. Noby, D. D., of New York, published 1836, donated by Hon. George C. Beekman; "Works of John Woolman," published 1818, donated by Hon. George C. Beekman; "England's Reformation from the Time of King Henry VIII. to the Time of Oate's Plot," a poem of four cantos, printed 1747 in two volumes, donated by Hon. George C. Beekman; "Sermons upon Several Occasions by the Rev. Matthew Clarke, with Memoirs of his Life, and Sermon Preached at his Funeral by Daniel Niel, M. A.," printed in London 1727, donated by Hon. George C. Beekman; "The Rural Visiter and Miscellaneous Gazette," Vol. 1., published in 1811 by D. Allison & Co., City of Burlington, N. J., donated by Hon. George C. Beekman; a book entitled "Angliae Notitia, or the Present State of England," by Edward Chamberlain, LL.D., printed in 1700, also a book entitled "The Christian Quaker Distinguished from the Apostate or Innovator," by William Rogers, printed in London 1680, also a clipping from a newspaper of the railroad accident at Parker's Creek, also "Barber and Howe's Historical Collections of the State of New Jersey," donated by Mrs. Theodosia D. Finch, of Red Bank; a book presented by Rev. A. H. Brown, entitled "A Pioneer of Southern New Jersey"; a printed copy of a New Jersey Legislature Senate Bill, dated January 26, 1881, entitled "An Act to authorize Joel Wilson and others, Trustees for the Religious Society of Friends, to sell a certain meeting house and lot of ground in the Township of Shrewsbury." This bill passed both Houses, was approved by the Governor and became a law. (See pamphlet laws of New Jersey, 1881.) It commemorates the final act in the history of the Quakers as an organized body in Shrewsbury Township, where the first (1762) Quakers' Meeting House of New Jersey or Pennsylvania was erected. Hon. George C. Beekman, in his letter presenting this bill, states that those Quakers were the controlling men in the early settlement of Shrewsbury, and exercised an influence that was favorable to the growth of Republican principles. He thought that the presenting of this bill by the Orthodox Friends was an acknowledgment of the utter extinction of the sect and an historical event worthy of notice, as it ended their history in Shrewsbury Township after many years of effort.

There has also been added to the Library by purchase Wolverton's Atlas of Monmouth County, Smith's History of Monmouth County, Salter's History of Monmouth and Ocean Counties, Poems of Philip Freneau in two volumes, edited by Fred Lewis Pattee (Princeton edition).

We have also received by gift, original advertisements of the famous Middletown Peace Meeting in 1863, presented by R. T. Middleditch, D.D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mr. J. P. B. Schenck, of South Orange, N. J.; Minutes of the Red Bank Chapter of "The Union League of the United States," organized at Red Bank August 14, 1863, presented by Dr. Charles Hubbard, Brooklyn, who was formerly the secretary of the Chapter; old deeds of indenture, presented by Mr. Walter B. Parsons and by William B. Warner, M.D.; a supplement of the New York Herald, issued the morning after the assassination of President Lincoln; four bank bills of the old Monmouth County Bank, located at Freehold, issued in the year 1825, of denominations respectively of one, two, three and five dollars, by the courtesy of Mr. J. P. B. Schenck, of South Orange, N. J.; a miniature trunk with brass nails about two hundred years old, once the property of George Smock, of Bound Brook, N. J., who was the owner of Island Farm in the Raritan River, and the father of the late Isaac G. Smock, of Monmouth County, received by the favor of John C. Smock, Ph.D., of Trenton, N. J.

The Library Committee has also reported the receipt during the past year of the original Clerk's book of minutes of the Township of Middletown, covering the entire period between January 2d, 1695, and March 17th, 1848. This book had long been missing and was supposed to have been lost or destroyed. Its discovery supplies a large fund of local historical information which is very gratifying to genealogists. The donor of this record is Mrs. Sarah A. Fairchild, of Keyport, N. J. In token of the Association's thorough appreciation of this favor, it has conferred upon Mrs. Fairchild a life membership of its organization with exemption from fees and dues.

Our acknowledgments are also due to William A. Walling, of Phalanx, N. J., who has presented to the Society fifteen interesting almanacs for the years 1808, 1810, 1811, 1813, 1818, 1830, 1836, 1837, 1838, 1839, 1850, 1851, 1857, 1880; also seven copies of Frank Leslie's illustrated newspaper during the Civil War and afterwards; also one copy of the Centennial Record, illustrated, 1876, and six copies of Harper's Weekly, illustrated.

During the past year the Association has adopted an insignia consisting of a bronze gilt badge about the size of a silver half dollar, representing as the ground an Indian pot of the form used by the Lenape Indians. On one side is the head and bust of a Lenape, the coat of arms of the Duke of Monmouth and a quotation from the address of Indian Chief "Wilted Grass" to the New Jersey Legislature: "Not a drop of our blood have you shed in battle; not an acre of land have you taken without our consent"; and on the reverse the seal of the Society. Each insignia is identified by its number, and the name of the owner inscribed thereon. The execution of the design and die is the work of Victor D. Brenner. The whole is suspended by ribbon of the Monmouth colors, and makes a beautiful decoration of great artistic merit. Mr. Edward D. Adams, of Rohallion, Rumson Hills, who conceived the original design of the insignia and to whose enterprise we are indebted for its development and production, has generously donated the fruits of his efforts to the Association, consisting of the steel dies and one hundred finished medallions struck from them; also a gold badge in the form of an Indian pipe, as the President's badge, to be worn with the insignia. The ribbon is the kindly gift of Mr. George F. Vietor, of Rumson Neck, who manufactured the same expressly for the Society.

The report of the Treasurer at the last regular meeting showed nine hundred and ninety-one dollars and ten cents in the treasury and one hundred and fifty dollars of outstanding dues. By the report of the Trustees we find that seventeen new members were elected during the past year. Five deaths have occurred since our last publication, namely, George Dummer Allaire, George Barr Snyder, Henry Stafford Little, Mrs. Frances M. Purdon and Mrs. Henrietta May Holbrook. The roll of membership hereto annexed shows the present total membership is 151, of which 143 are regular members, 4 life members and 4 honorary members.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees December 27th, 1902, the southeast room of the third floor of Patterson and Spinning's buildings on Broad Street has been rented and furnished by the Association for its use, and the same is now occupied by the Society as an office, library and cabinet. The custody of the room has been delegated to the Library Committee under the immediate care of Miss Sophie H. Nicholl as Assistant Librarian, with authority to admit visitors subject to the rules and regulations of the library. Miss Nicholl will be found during office hours in rooms of the same building on the second floor, immediately under the library, and will be pleased to extend courtesies to members and others who may desire to consult or inspect the books, papers, documents and relics there deposited.

At the same meeting Rev. Arthur Lowndes, of New York, read a paper entitled "Phases of Washington's Character as revealed in his private correspondence," dealing with his kindly social characteristics which are not so familiar to the world as his historical record. September 27th, 1906, the Association convened at the seaside cottage of Mrs. William W. Shippen, at Sea Bright. The President presided. A highly interesting paper was read by Josiah Collins Pumpelly, A. M., LL. B., of New York City, entitled "Washington at Morristown, N. J., winter of 1779-80."

May 29th, 1907, at a meeting held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Applegate, Red Bank, George Virginius Sneden read a paper on the "Early History of Monmouth County Railroads," and John S. Applegate commented on the signers of an old subscription paper recently presented to the Association, for building a primitive school house in Red Bank in the year 1852. June 26th, 1907, the members of the Association, by invitation of a Committee of the citizens of Freehold, attended the ceremonies of unveiling a Memorial Tablet to mark the site of Monmouth County Court House used as a hospital at the Battle of Monmouth. June 27th, 1907, a lecture entitled "Guns of Sumter," was delivered by William Webster Ellsworth, illustrated by stereopticon views in the First Baptist Church of Shrewsbury, at Red Bank, before the Association and its guests. July 25th, 1907, a meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. Charles A. Bennett at Freehold, N. J. The President presided. Mrs. John T. Roselle rendered a vocal solo. Mrs.

M. C. Murray Hyde read a paper entitled "Family Ties in the Early Colonization of England," and referred to a number of families of the present day whose ancestors were prominent in the early settlements. August 29th, 1907, a meeting was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Wikoff. The President in the chair. Mrs. Charles H. A. Wager, of Oberlin, Ohio, read a paper entitled "The Development of the Legislature of New Jersey." There was music consisting of vocal solos by Walter B. Parsons and instrumental music under the direction of Professor Harold K. Allstrom. September 26th, 1907, the annual meeting was held at the summer cottage of the President at Redemont. After the election of officers, General James Grant Wilson, D. C. L., read a paper entitled "Christopher Columbus and Henry Hudson." Edward Dean Adams, LL. D., commented upon the paper and moved a vote of thanks which was adopted with a standing vote. October 31st, 1907, a lecture was delivered by Professor Herschel D. Parker, Ph. D., of Columbia University, New York, on the subject of "Alaska, and Explorations of Mt. McKinley," with stereopticon illustrations, in the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church at Keyport.

Additions to the Library since our last publication are as follows :

(1) A deed of conveyance, probably the oldest original deed of land in Monmouth County, dated 1678, conveying a lot in Middletown, New Jersey, by Richard Gibbons and wife to John Crawford. Richard Gibbons was one of the Monmouth Patentees under the Nicolls Grant. This deed is the gift of former State Senator George Crawford Beekman.

(2) The first Geography printed in New Jersey known as Morse's Geography, printed at Elizabethtown, New Jersey, by Shepard Kollock in 1790, which was also the gift of the Hon. George Crawford Beekman.

(3) By the favor of Edward Dean Adams, LL. D., an interesting Guide Book and Directory of Long Branch, printed in 1868, also copy of advertisement from Parker's New York Gazette, revived in the Weekly Post Boy, No. 238, August 10, 1774, and repeated occasionally till No. 248, October 19, 1774, of the sale of a plantation in Shrewsbury, New Jersey, consisting of about 440 acres, upon Rumson Neck, well timbered, &c. A paper, entitled "Extracts from MSS. on History of the Discovery and Exploration of the Atlantic Coast of the United States," by Dr. J. G. Kohl, 1858. This paper contains much that is interesting concerning the New Jersey Coast in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Also by the generosity of Mr. Adams, we have recently received the original steel dies designed and cut by Victor D. Brenner for the production of the medal of our Monmouth County Historical Association.

(4) By purchase, a book entitled "The Order of the Cincinnati, France," by Colonel Asa Bird Gardner, LL. D.

(5) Five volumes of Wesley's Journal, an interesting religious work by Rev. Samuel Craydock, published in 1679, the gift of Hon. George Crawford Beekman.

(6) Also a volume of printed reports of important law cases with which George Crawford Beekman was connected in his law practice in New Jersey, of interest in local history.

(7) Volumes I and II of the "Genealogical Miscellany," edited by John E. Stillwell, M. D., of New York City, recently published, containing a very interesting collection of genealogical and historical matters relating to old families and settlers of Monmouth County, donated by the editor.

(9) A copy of the New Jersey State Gazette, published at Trenton, New Jersey, December 31, 1799, containing reports of the illness, death and funeral obsequies of George Washington; presented by Jehu Patterson Applegate, A. B.

(10) A copy of the original bill for the establishment of Water Works in Red Bank, entitled "Senate Bill No. 60, State of New Jersey, introduced by John S. Applegate, January 21, 1884." Also a printed copy of the original rules, regulations and water rates of the Red Bank Water Works.

(11) A newspaper of the olden time, dated Monday, April 8, 1728, No. LV., entitled "The New England Weekly Journal," printed at "Boston by S. Kneeland and T. Green, at the printing house in Queer Street where advertisements are taken in," being a single sheet thirteen inches long and seven inches wide, printed on both sides. This paper was presented by Henry C. Taylor, of Middletown, July, 1906, the same having been found by him among the papers of the Estate of John Taylor, deceased, his cousin, who was a descendant of the Taylor family of Middletown, New Jersey.

(12) Presented by John Conover Smock, Ph.D., former State Geologist of New Jersey, a book containing 768 pages besides the index, entitled "A Journal of the Life of Thomas Story, containing an account of his remarkable conviction of and embracing the principles of truth as held by the people called Quakers; and also of his travels and labors in the service of the Gospel; with many other occurrences and observations, published at New Castle upon the Tyne, printed by Isaac Thompson & Co. at the new printing office on the Side MDCCXLIH."

(13) For the following historical papers we are indebted to James Steen, Esq.; November 6, 1905, "History of the Wyckoff Family, compiled and read at the Annual Re-union of the Family in 1905"; "Mt. Pleasant," a paper originally published in "The Matawan Journal," reprinted in "The Presbyterian." A paper entitled "Robert Morris' Claim," relating to an alleged claim of the heirs of Robert Morris, the confederate financier of the Revolution, against the United States Government, and showing the absolute non-relationship of the Morris family of Monmouth and of New York to the great financier, and containing genealogies of the Morris families. A printed paper entitled "Middletown's First Presbyterian Church," read before the Monmouth County Historical Association. "Journal of The Presbyterian Historical Society, Vol. IV, March, 1908, No. 5."

(14) "An extract from the Rev. John Wesley's Journals," Vol. 6, (to complete the set presented by Judge Beekman) the gift of Rufus Ogden, Esq., September 28th, 1905.

(15) A book entitled "Bi-Centennial Celebration 1699-1899, Reformed Church of Freehold known as the Brick Church of Marlboro, New Jersey," edited by Rev. A. I. Martine, Passaic, N. J., the gift of Mr. Martine, per hand of Mrs. Lydia H. Schenck Conover, of Marlboro, N. J.

(16) An old subscription paper presented by Theresa Champlain (Mrs. George B.) bearing date December 1, 1852, and containing a list of thirty-eight original signatures of citizens of Red Bank at that time, who subscribed to a fund for the erection of a new school house. A creditable list of primitive educators in days when people wanting a school house, put their hands in their pockets and built it.

(17) "Patriotic Poems of New Jersey," presented by the New Jersey Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, and published by it under the supervision of its Historian, Mr. William Clinton Armstrong; a book containing ninety-seven patriotic poems of New Jersey.

(18) By purchase, third volume of Princeton Edition of Freneau's poems.

(19) The Trustees also acknowledge receipt of a large number of old periodicals, literary, scientific and political, long preserved by a member of the Hartshorne family at the Highlands, for which we are indebted to Russel G. Andrew, M. D., of Navesink.

Our cabinet has received several contributions of relics. Among those are :

(1) One share of stock of the Monmouth County Agricultural Society, dated September 1, 1858, by the courtesy of John C. Smock, of Trenton, New Jersey.

(2) Nine genuine confederate bills in denominations respectively of twenty, ten, five, and two dollars, and one dollar, seventy-five cents and sixty cents, purchased by Capt. Samuel Gilbert Fairchild of the Confederates in the Civil War, and by him presented to our Association ; also, by the same donor, pieces of links in the iron chain that was stretched across the Mississippi River between Fort Phillip and Fort Jackson in the War of the Rebellion, to bar the entrance of United States Vessels. The chain was broken by a vessel in command of Captain Fairchild.

(3) One of the comparatively small number of medals of the American Numismatic Society, bearing the profile of Amerigo Vespucci, and contour of the American Continent as he outlined it, enclosed in a neat morocco case bearing inscription of the name of our Society and date of presentation; by the courtesy of Edward Dean Adams, LL. D.

Since the last publication, the membership of the Society has increased by thirty-two; deceased, six.

September 26th, 1905, the Board of Trustees appointed a Committee consisting of John S. Applegate, W. Strother Jones and Charles B. Parsons to invest the funds of the Association. Pursuant to this authority, the Committee has reported the loan of eleven hundred dollars, amply secured by bond and mortgage bearing interest at the rate of five per cent, without tax. There remains uninvested in the hands of the Treasurer the sum of $408.27.

By the courtesy of Hon. George C. Beekman, the Association has acquired the custody of the original official die and seal of Monmouth County.

The original Clerk's book of minutes of the Township of Middletown covering period from January 2, 1695, to March 17th, 1848, now in our Library, has been copied at the expense of our Society, to be used instead of the original, which is quite worn, and needs to be handled carefully.

Of the one hundred insignia of our Association, all have been sold excepting sixteen; it is probable we shall soon need to have more struck from the original dies.

We have now nearly completed the tenth year of the existence of our Association, and considering that the interest of our members is so well maintained, we think we have just cause for congratulation.

Mrs. Caroline Gallup Reed was born in 1821 at Berne, near Albany, N. Y.

In her early girlhood she moved to Albany where her father, Albert Gallup, held a County office, and was afterward a representative of Albany County in Congress.

Through her father's and mother's line she is descended from old New England stock.

In 1851 she married the Rev. Sylvanus Reed, who was rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Innocents in Albany until 1862, when he moved with his family to New York City, to be rector of St. George's in Beekman Street. He died in 1871.

In 1864 Mrs. Reed established a finishing school for young ladies. She is widely known through the high reputation of the School which she conducted more than thirty years.

In 1895 she retired from active life and now lives in her New York home during the winter. Her Summer home is at Redemont, near Navesink, N. J.

Mrs. Reed celebrated her ninetieth birthday last August. She has four children—all living.

She is a member of the Daughters of The American Revolution, the Colonial Dames and the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

Her husband was third in direct descent from Gen. James Reed, New Hampshire, through which line her eldest son is a member of the Society of the Cincinnati.

Though not of New Jersey descent, Mrs. Reed's strong interest in Colonial and Revolutionary history, led her to take the first steps which brought about the foundation of the Monmouth County Historical Association.

SUMMARY OF REPORTS

Since the publication of the last Year Book of this Association for years 1905, 1906 and 1907, this Association has held nineteen regular meetings, and seventeen meetings of the Board of Trustees. The following is a brief summary of the regular meetings for the years 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911.

May 28th, 1908:—Met at the residence of Mrs. Henry S. White, Red Bank, N. J., at 3 o'clock P. M. Vice-President, Rev. John C. Lord, presiding.

After the regular business, a paper was read by Miss Sarah Elaine Eldridge, entitled "East Jersey's Provincial Capital." The author, a former resident of the "Port-Town" of Perth Amboy, had opportunity to secure excellent material for her address, and the Association at the close of the reading expressed its appreciation by a vote of thanks. The meeting was enlivened by pleasing selections of violin music by Miss Kridel. A patriotic poem, "The Spur of Monmouth," by Henry Morford, was read by Mrs. John H. Patterson. A biographical sketch of William Letson Terhune of Matawan, N. J., who died December, 1907, aged 83 years, was prepared and read by Mrs. Henry S. White, chairman of the Necrology Committee. An old book of accounts of Gov. Andrew Bowne, dated 1680, was exhibited by former Judge George C. Beekman.

June 25th:—Met at the residence of the President, Mrs. Caroline G. Reed, "Redemont," Locust, N. J. A short and interesting talk on the coming Henry Hudson Celebration was given by the President. A paper compiled from "Letters of Henry Johnson of Middletown, while serving in the Army of the Revolution," was read by Miss Norma L. Swan, a great grand-daughter of the author of the letters. "Reminiscences of Middletown in his boyhood days, in the first fifteen years of the latter half of the nineteenth century,' was read by Charles B. Parsons.

July 30th:—Met at the residence of Mrs. William Strother Jones, Riverside Drive, Red Bank, N. J. Rev. John C. Lord, Vice-President in the chair. John Hopping Patterson read a patriotic address which he had recently delivered at a Fourth of July celebration at Eatontown, N. J.; and Edward S. Atwood described the ceremonial of the Selamlık in Constantinople, which he recently witnessed when the Sultan goes from his Palace to the Hamadiéh Mosque to offer up his prayers.

August 27th:—Meeting held at the residence of former Judge Charles E. Hendrickson, Red Bank, N. J. In the absence of the President and Vice-President, Judge Hendrickson was appointed chairman pro tem. Mrs. Henry S. White, read a letter from the President, Mrs. Caroline G. Reed, written at Barbizon, near Paris; and as chairman of the Necrology Committee she also read a memorial on the death of Shepherd Kollock, who died August 12th, 1908, aged 95 years. Officers for the ensuing year were elected. Hon. Alfred M. Heston of Atlantic City read a paper on the "Early Steamboat Navigation," and Mrs. William A. Patterson of Riverside Drive, sang a solo.

September 17th:—Meeting held at "Rohallion," residence of Edward D. Adams, LL.D., Rumson, N. J.; in the absence of the President, the host, Doctor Adams, presided. Chairman of the Necrology Committee, Mrs. Henry S. White, read a memorial on the late Mrs. Edward S. Atwood, wife of the Secretary of the Association. Remarks were made by Dr. Adams on the coming Hudson Celebration, stating, among other things, that "a replica of the Brig Half Moon is being built in Holland to be sent here in 1909, for the Celebration, and that upon its arrival the Brig will anchor off the Highlands and remain as long as did the original Half Moon in 1609." General Stewart L. Woodford, Chairman of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration, followed with an address, containing an outline of the program being prepared, which was full of interesting information. Two vocal trios, and a solo by boys from the choir of St. George's Church were exceedingly well rendered. * * * * * * * * * *

A letter from Mrs. Reed was read wherein she tendered her resignation as President of the Association after thirteen years of service, giving as reasons, her advancing years and growing desire to be relieved of responsibility. The letter was received with great regret and was referred to the Board of Trustees for further consideration, to be reported at the next meeting. William Barclay Parsons, LL. D., member of the Societies of Civil Engineers of England, France and the United States, and Supervising Engineer of the Cape Cod Canal, now in course of construction, gave an interesting sketch of the history and progress of the Cape Cod Canal, which received the thanks of the Association.

' July 27th:—Met at "The Anchorage," the residence of Mrs. W. W. Shippen, Seabright, N. J. Vice-President, Edward D. Adams, presiding. John S. Applegate, Chairman of Board of Trustees, read the Trustees report in which were mentioned a number of interesting donations to the museum and library, and the action of the Board with reference to the resignation of Mrs. Reed as President of the Association, recommending her to election as Founder-President Emeritus. The report was approved and the recommendation adopted. The following is the resolution offered by Mr. Applegate to the Board of Trustees and unanimously adopted by them.

“Whereas our beloved President, Caroline Gallup Reed, founder and President of the Monmouth County Historical Association, who from the beginning of its existence until the present time has served the interests of the Society with marked ability and success, has seen fit to tender her resignation as President.”

“Resolved: that reluctantly we accept the same in deference to her earnest request, and in grateful acknowledgment of her distinguished merit and usefulness as our presiding officer, for a period of thirteen years, we accord her henceforth official distinction as ‘Founder-President Emeritus’ of this organization.”

Rev. Dr. William Elliot Griffis, of Ithaca, N. Y., delivered a very interesting address upon the “Strategy of Washington in the War of the Revolution.”

September 29th:—Convened in the lecture room of the First Baptist Church of Shrewsbury at Red Bank, N. J. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Henry S. White; and in the absence of the President and Vice-Presidents, W. S. B. Parker, of the City of Long Branch, was elected temporary Chairman and George V. Sneden, Recording Secretary, pro tem.

After the election of officers and trustees for the ensuing term, John S. Applegate, the newly elected President, occupied the chair. Thanking the Board of Trustees and the members of the Association, he said, in substance, that it was a pleasure to have the confidence of the Society at the outset of his administration, and expressed the hope that he would be able to retain it. He was mindful however, that there is a broad field before us which can only be exploited with difficulty. It cannot be expected of the President to overcome the obstacles single-handed. The work will require the co-operation of the President, the officers, the committees, and all the members. With that co-operation he believed the Association would achieve success, and conserve the history of Monmouth County.

Mrs. Henry S. White read biographical sketches of the late Theodosia D. Finch and Gustave A. Schwarz. George V. Sneden, another member of the same Committee, read a sketch of the late Paul T. Kimball, M. D. Rev. John B. Handley, D. D., of Ocean Grove, Superintendent of the New Jersey Methodist Conference, delivered an address entitled "The Battle of Red Bank on the Delaware." And an original poem, by Mrs. Mary DeGroff Walling of Keyport, entitled "Story of Shrewsbury, told by the Birds," was read by the author.

October 26th:—Met at the residence of Edwin H. Burr, Red Bank, N. J., the President, John S. Applegate in the chair. After the usual routine business, the chairman of the Necrology Committee reported that sketches had been prepared of the lives of the following named deceased persons:

Josephine McMahon, wife of Frank McMahon, Col. John James McCook, Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Hastings, and Hon. Cornelius N. Bliss. On motion the sketches of the lives of the first two named deceased persons were read by Mrs. Henry S. White, and the last two by George V. Sneden.

The following letter from Caroline Gallup Reed, Founder and President Emeritus of this organization, in answer to a communication received by her from the Board of Trustees accepting her resignation, was read:

“To the Trustees of the Monmouth County Historical Association:

DEAR FRIENDS:

Your announcement of the action of the Trustees in accepting my resignation as President, and in giving me the official title of Founder-President Emeritus of the Monmouth County Historical Association, was received with much pleasure, for which I desire to thank you and the Association.

It is seldom that the conception of a great work and an ambition to accomplish it are satisfied so thoroughly as has been achieved in the organization and success of the Monmouth County Historical Association.

Yours faithfully,

CAROLINE GALLUP REED.''

Per A. P.

An address was delivered by James M. Green, LL. D., Principal of the State Normal School of Trenton, N. J., on the subject, "The Colonial Definition of a Citizen," which was well received, and a rising vote of thanks was extended to Dr. Green for his paper.

SUMMARY OF REPORTS

The Monmouth County Historical Association, since the publication of the last Year Book in 1911, has held twelve regular meetings and ten meetings of the Board of Trustees. The regular meetings for the years 1912 and 1913 were as follows:

May 31st, 1912—At the residence of the President, John S. Applegate, Red Bank, N. J., the President in the chair.

After the regular business papers were read by Major Charles B. Parsons on "Old Mills of Monmouth County," and by John S. Applegate on "Changes in Geographical Names in Old Townships of Monmouth County." After the reading of the last paper, which commented among other changes in popular nomenclature upon the way in which the name "Shrewsbury River" had gradually usurped "Navesink River," which is the original and correct name of the north branch of the Shrewsbury River, a motion was made and carried that a committee be appointed to consider means for re-establishing in popular use the name "Navesink River."

Obituary notices of Mr. George H. Freck and Mrs. Joseph P. Chadwick were read by Mrs. Henry S. White of the Necrology committee.

June 27th, 1912—At the residence of Mrs. Joseph T. Burrowes, Red Bank, N. J., President John S. Applegate in the chair.

A paper entitled "Our French Allies in the Revolution," by Josiah C. Pumpelly, Historian of the Empire State Society, Sons of the American Revolution, was read by the Secretary, Mr. Edward S. Atwood, in the absence of Mr. Pumpelly.

Remarks followed the reading of the paper, at the conclusion of which a resolution was passed to the effect that in consideration of the mighty service rendered by Lafayette to the American Colonies, whereby France was induced to send to our aid the French army and navy, and American Independence was achieved, it is befitting that public school children should be taught a better appreciation of our national indebtedness to Lafayette and the French Alliance, and with that end in view, it was recommended that on an appropriate date in each year, an hour or two be set aside for patriotic and instructive discourse in the schools relating to the subject, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the New Jersey State Board of Education.

Mrs. Henry S. White read a paper entitled "Hannah Arnett's Faith," a narrative of an historical Revolutionary incident handed down in the Kollock family and written by Shephard Kollock.

July 25th, 1912—At the residence of Mrs. W. W. Shippen, Seabright, N. J. In the absence of President Applegate, Vice-President Edward D. Adams occupied the chair. Wm. Elliot Griffis, D.D., L.H.D., gave an interesting and instructive address upon "The War of 1812 and Commodore Perry's Victory on Lake Erie."

August 29th, 1912—At the residence of Mrs. Almira Greer, Shrewsbury, N. J., the President in the chair.

Horace White, Esq., formerly Editor of the Chicago Tribune and of the New York Evening Post, gave an address upon "The Lincoln-Douglas Debates of 1858." As Mr. White was present at all of the debates, his relation of these historic events was graphic and held the close attention of his audience. President Applegate then gave his personal recollections of the reception of President-elect Abraham Lincoln at Trenton by the New Jersey Legislature when Lincoln was on his way to Washington to commence his administration.

October 3rd, 1912—At the residence of George M. Sandt, Esq., Red Bank, N. J., the President in the chair. This was the regular September meeting postponed from September 26th.

SUMMARY OF REPORTS

Robert McNutt McElroy, Ph.D., of Princeton University, addressed the Association on "The Political Rise of Andrew Jackson."

October 31st, 1912—At the residence of the Rev. John Lord, All Saints' Rectory, Stone Church, Navesink Highlands, N. J., the President in the chair.

The Treasurer reported a balance in the Treasury of $1,834.51, in addition to the Bond & Mortgage investment of $1,000.00.

The election of officers and trustees, unavoidably postponed from the August meeting, followed. Xenophon Huddy, Esq., the scheduled speaker on the subject "Things Gained and Retained by the War of the Revolution," being unable to meet his engagement, President Applegate, at the invitation of the Society, read a paper entitled "John Bowne, a Nation Builder," delivered by him at the Quaker Church, Shrewsbury, the week previous, before the Society of the "Colonial Dames of America."

SUMMARY OF REPORTS

May 29th, 1913—At the residence of John Garretson Schanck, Esq., Keyport, N. J., the President in the chair.

After the regular business Mrs. Annie H. White, for the Necrology Committee, read a sketch of the life of Mr. James May Duane.

The address of the afternoon was given by Professor Robert McNutt McElroy of Princeton University on "Jefferson-Hamilton and the First Division of Parties under the Constitution." This was followed by vocal and instrumental music and the usual collation.

June 26th, 1913—At the home of Capt. James Alexander Strymser, Low Moor, N. J., the President in the chair.

President Applegate congratulated the Society on account of its interest in historic work so well maintained, and its steadily increasing membership. He commented upon the large number of county societies we have in the State of New Jersey, each one of them rich in historic lore. He then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, the Rev. Charles W. Roeder, of Middletown, N. J., who gave an address upon "The Battle of Monmouth."

John Lenord Merrill, President of the New Jersey Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, was present, and, at the invitation of the chair, made some pleasing remarks.

The address of the afternoon was to have been delivered by Horace White, Esq., his subject being "The Horace Greeley Campaign." Mr. White was unable to be present but sent his address, which, at his request, was read by President Applegate. Vice-President Edward D. Adams, who presided, made a few appropriate remarks at its close. By the courtesy of Dr. Adams, each member and guest present received a reproduction of an interesting portrait of Horace Greeley, as a souvenir of a most delightful meeting.

August 26th, 1913—At the First Baptist Church, Red Bank, N. J., Mr. Applegate presiding.

Major George Haven Putnam, Litt.D., President of the G. P. Putnam's Sons Publishing Company, and veteran of the Civil War, gave an entertaining address on "Abraham Lincoln, the People's Leader in the Contest for the Maintenance of the Republic." Major Charles B. Parsons added reminiscences, manifesting the loyalty of the army to Lincoln during the war.

Secretary pro tem. The chairman of the necrology committee reported the death of Edward Stewart Miles, and read a short biographical sketch, which was ordered recorded in the necrology record. A committee to nominate trustees to fill vacancies caused by expiration of term was appointed, consisting of Aaron VanSyckel Dawes, Mrs. Almira Greer and Miss Margaret Terhune. The President congratulated the Association upon the opportunity of meeting in the quaint quarters of the Hicksite Quakers of Shrewsbury, erected in 1816. It was here the Quaker speakers held forth. Those serving official terms were Elizabeth Hunt, Ann Hopkins, Joseph Wolcott, Joseph Lafetra, Sarah Underwood and Rebecca Tilton. The Quakers were among the first settlers of Shrewsbury and exercised an influence that was favorable to the growth of Republican principles.

The speaker of the day was William Force Whitaker, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Elizabeth, N. J., on the subject, "A Hero at Monmouth."

October 30th, 1913—Regular meeting held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Vanderveer Perrine, 55 West Main Street, Freehold, N. J. Mr. Daniel DuBois Smock, in the absence of the Secretary, was elected Secretary pro tem. The Secretary read the report of the committee on nominations. On motion the persons so nominated were elected and the Secretary authorized to cast the ballot.

The Treasurer reported the total amount in the treasury uninvested as $2,108.85. The President presented the speaker of the day, William Elliot Griffis, D.D., LL.D., on the subject, "The Walloons: the First Home Making in the Middle States." Dr. Griffis' address referred to the Walloons as those historical Dutchmen of southern Belgium whose influence upon the progress of civilization in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania was very marked. After describing their early ascendancy over their neighbors in Belgium in all the arts and industries, the speaker gave them credit for developing, if not for originating, every good thing from mechanics to civil law in the countries from which they were afterward driven by religious persecution or by the spirit of adventure. He described them as "God fearing, Bible reading people." They established communion wherever they went and became masters of skilled industries. Doctor Griffis was followed by Major Charles B. Parsons, who commented upon the speaker's remarks. Miss Hope Forman, Miss Eleanor Ward, Miss Evelyn Forman, Charles Schnautz, and Forest Hulsehart, by orchestra music, lent charm to the occasion.

Our library contains nearly two hundred bound volumes and many pamphlets and magazines relating to various departments of history—civil, literary, natural, ecclesiastical, and to genealogies and biographies of persons and families. It also contains many old newspapers, almanacs, manuscripts, documents, relics, curios and antiquated souvenirs. We solicit further contributions which will be gratefully accepted and carefully preserved.

The library and museum are located on the west side of Broad Street, Red Bank, in the Davidson Building, second floor, Room 5, adjoining office of Agent in Charge. Members have free access thereto during usual office hours and may consult any book or manuscript and make excerpts from the same. Any person not a member may obtain like privilege with the consent in writing of the library committee. Books, papers and other things very valuable, or in condition too frail to be handled, are ordinarily kept under glass or in safe, and if in frequent demand a copy is used for common reference. During the past year a list of all the properties of the Association has been arranged for inspection, a typewritten copy of which may be found in the library.

This Society is supported by initiation fees and dues of its members. A large membership is therefore solicited as necessary for the maintenance and success of the organization.

The only fees and dues are initiation fee, $3.00; annual dues, $2.00. Any member may become a life member on payment of $25.00, which exempts from payment of annual dues but not from initiation fee. The badge of the Society consists of an insignia of bronze gilt suspended by ribbon of Monmouth colors, all designed and executed by distinguished artists. Each badge is engraved with its number and the owners' name. On one side is the head and bust of a Lenape Indian, the coat of arms of the Duke of Monmouth and a quotation from the address of Indian Chief "Wilted Grass" to the New Jersey Legislature. On the reverse is the seal of the Society. The whole is suspended by ribbon of the Monmouth colors and makes a beautiful decoration. The price of the badge is only $3.65, which includes engraving of name, attachment of ribbon and transmission to owner. The next number sold will be 137.

THE LIBRARY

The library and museum are located on the west side of Broad Street, Red Bank, in the Davidson Building, second floor, Room 5, adjoining office of Agent in Charge. Members have free access thereto during usual office hours and may consult any book or manuscript and make excerpts from the same. Any person not a member may obtain like privilege with the consent in writing of the library committee. Books, papers and other things very valuable, or in condition too frail to be handled, are ordinarily kept under glass or in safe, and if in frequent demand a copy is used for common reference. A list of all the properties of the Association has been arranged for inspection, a copy of which may be found in the library.

The library contains more than two hundred bound volumes and many pamphlets and magazines relating to various departments of history—civil, literary, natural, ecclesiastical—and to genealogies and biographies of persons and families. It also contains many old newspapers, almanacs, manuscripts, documents, relics, curios and antiquated souvenirs. We solicit further contributions, which will be gratefully accepted and carefully preserved.

On one side is the head and bust of a Lenape Indian, the coat of arms of the Duke of Monmouth and a quotation from the address of Indian Chief "Wilted Grass" to the New Jersey Legislature. On the reverse is the seal of the Society. The whole is suspended by ribbon of the Monmouth colors and makes a beautiful decoration. The price of the badge is $3.65, which includes engraving of name, attachment of ribbon and transmission to owner.

In Memoriam

JOHN STILWELL APPLGATE

“To be attached to the subdivision, to love the little platoon we belong to in society, is the first principle (the germ as it were) of public affections. It is the first link in the series by which we proceed towards a love to our country and to mankind.” These famous words of Burke form an appropriate commentary upon that aspect of Mr. Applegate’s life of which it is most fitting to speak in this place. It is of course always difficult to say what is the ruling element in a man’s nature, especially if he is one who observes a decent reticence about his aims and motives; but I think we should not go far astray if we found in Mr. Applegate’s devotion to the place and the society in which his lot was cast the governing motive of his later years, perhaps of his whole life. To this devotion The Monmouth County Historical Association is an enduring witness. But it is a witness also to the fact that this local attachment to what Burke calls “the little platoon we belong to” was not merely local; it was the antechamber to a patriotism as wide as the nation. Mr. Applegate's thorough knowledge of American history, his abiding interest in the Civil War, of which his Life of Colonel Arrowsmith gives evidence, his public services to the community and the state are all indications of the range of his patriotism.

But there are indications also of its depth. His interest in genealogy, not only of his own family but of his neighbours, his fondness for all the places associated with the memory of his forbears, his attachment to everything that belonged to them, did not spring merely from a personal satisfaction that he came of "good stock." No one could hear him speak of these matters without perceiving that he rejoiced to feel that his roots were deep in Monmouth earth, and that this was the real reason for his strong family pride. His often expressed admiration for thrift and industry and success was not, I think, wholly due to sympathy with the normal desire to "lay field to field." Such qualities, he thought, made good citizens; gave a man a "stake in the country." He would have agreed that property is power; not power artificial and usurped, but power natural and inevitable. This is of course immediately related to his strong political conservatism. No man with such convictions as his could be expected to approve of placing political power in the hands of unknown and untried men, radical, innovating, and perhaps irresponsible. This does not mean that he was a reactionary. He was too good a business man for that, with too shrewd an eye for the values of things. But he was not an innovator, and, with his sense of the continuity of family and national life, could not be.

The quality of which I am speaking was, no doubt, native to him, but it was fostered by his profession. Law is the great conservative force in society, the bulwark of things established. It is inevitable that the man who spends his days and nights with it, who does not merely use it as a stepping-stone to political place, should take on something of its spirit. In this sense, as in many others, Mr. Applegate had the legal mind. And it is noteworthy that here too we find evidence of his strong feeling for the past. In late years, it has been the history of law and of lawyers, especially of his native county, that has chiefly interested him, and to that interest the Monmouth County Bar Association is indebted for a careful account of its early courts and lawyers.

IN MEMORIAM

There are many other qualities that spring to one's mind as one thinks of Mr. Applegate—his geniality and kindliness, his helpfulness, his old-fashioned formal courtesy, his high sense of moral rectitude, the thoroughness, industry, and accuracy that made him so excellent a lawyer; but the quality of which I have chosen to speak seems to me the one upon which it is most profitable for us to dwell. In a nomadic age like ours, when local attachments count for little or nothing in the lives of most men, when the demand for practical utility has all but ousted the sentiment of veneration, when ignorance of the past is a sufficient reason for scorning its wisdom and accomplishment, it is good for us to think of the admirable figure that has left us, and of the things for which he stood. "A gentleman of the old school" we may be inclined to call him; but it would be more correct to say that he was a gentleman of the only school that ever was or will be, the school of the wise, the reverent, the humane.
